In London me, Julia and Jasmin were in Spanish family. Every morning we went to school by tube and then we were learning with really good teacher Billy. Lessons with him were really funny, but we learned new things. Every day we were doing some posters and then Billy put it on the wall.
One day we were singing and learning one song and when we learned that we sang in Soho park. Every day after school we went with Billy to trips. On Saturday we went to Cambridge with guide names Barbara and she was really funny and on Sunday we were in Stonehange and Bath and it was good too.
